Letters of recommendation should disclose the connection between applicant & recommender (coach, teacher boss, etc.) Get a current letter, do not use old ones. The current letter best reflects where you are. Helpful Tips: Give the letter writer adequate notice and thank them for the letter. Let them know if you receive the scholarship. Notes on scrap paper business cards taped to paper, text messages will not be recognized as letters. If you are a non-traditional returning student bring your most recent transcripts within the past 2 years.
