Reynoso first ever Timberwolf named to NWAC Men's Soccer North-East Region All Star Team

PENDLETON, Ore. – Blue Mountain Community College sophomore soccer player Jonathan Reynoso has been named to the Northwest Athletic Conference (NWAC) North-East Region Men's Soccer All Star Team, becoming the first Timberwolf to make the cut in the program's 3-year history.

Unfortunately for Reynoso, who hails from Madras, Ore., he and the other NWAC All Stars didn't have the opportunity to actually play in the All Star matches on Nov. 16 thanks to electrical vandalism that occurred at Starfire Stadium in Tukwila, Wash., where the NWAC Soccer Championships are held. Due to the vandalism, the NWAC was forced to reschedule the soccer championships so that all games occurred during daylight hours, and in light of those changes, canceled the All Star events.

"Even though Jonathan didn't get to play in the All Star game, it's still a wonderful honor and achievement for him this season," said BMCC Head Men's Soccer Coach Austin Shick. "He played hard and earned the All Star designation, and that's something to be proud of."

Reynoso, a 5-foot 8-inch midfielder, started in 15 of 16 games for the Timberwolves in the 2019 season, with one goal and four assists.

The Timberwolves went 5-6-6 overall on the season (2-5-5 conference), the best season to date for the program.
