BMCC Milton-Freewater Center to host open house to introduce new director

MILTON-FREEWATER, Ore. – Blue Mountain Community College’s Milton-Freewater Center will host an open house on June 29 to help welcome the facility’s recently-hired new center director, Susan Kralman. Kralman began her new role on June 1 so that she could learn the ropes alongside outgoing center director Debbie Lee, who will retire on June 30 after nine years in the position with BMCC.

Kralman is familiar with BMCC Milton-Freewater as she’s been serving as a Student Success Coach there for the past year. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in sociology from Portland State University, and a Master of Social Work from Walla Walla University. Her work experience includes serving as the human services planner for the Walla Walla County Department of Human Services, the housing services manager and 10-year plan coordinator for the Blue Mountain Action Council, and the homeless coordinator for the Walla Walla County Department of Community Health.

The open house will allow visitors to meet Kralman and give Lee warm wishes in her retirement, as well as have an opportunity to tour the center. The reception takes place on Wednesday, June 29, from 4-5:30 p.m. in room 110 at the BMCC Milton-Freewater Center, 311 N. Columbia. Light refreshments will be provided.
